HADERECH ARUKA THE ROAD IS LONG

(x2)

The road is long and twisted
it wraps my life in disappointments
you keep only to yourself
all the answers at night.

Tell me where are you going to stop driving hearts crazy
I remember how you were walking/smiling
you managed to change my life.

If you're there then you should know
it's for you I exist
I sense you at night and day
each smile from you
lights up the world
gives me the taste to (a) dream.
(x2)

The road is long and not ending
the horizon gets farther with the years
even if you're different now
in life there's none like you.

Tell me where are you going to...

(x2)
